

The Daily Otter

Hudson River, New York * December 11, 2003

Crayfish Festival

Mayor Otter makes it clear that the population of crayfish has gone up and this year's festival will be a success.

Mayor Otter addresses the crowd at the Annual Crayfish Festival.

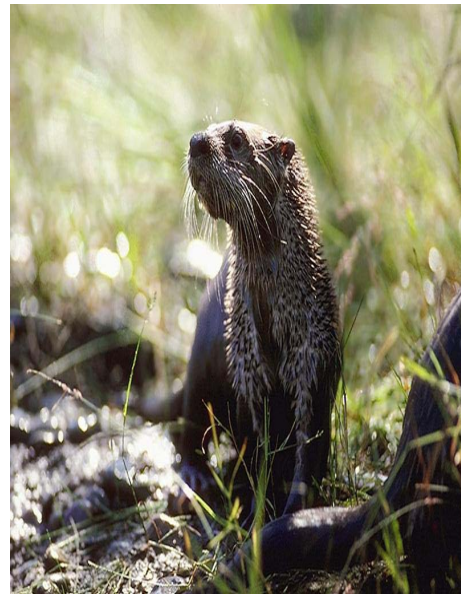

2 December 11, 2003

On the lookout for humans

As we all know the human is our worst predator and we are on the lookout for them. Last night Mayor Otter hired two otters to protect the village from humans. Humans are our worst predator because they hunt us for our rich brown fur.

Oliver at the Hudson River shoreline.

Otto stands guard in the village.

On the watch for Vehicles.

Owen Otter makes sure river otters are very careful crossing the roads at night. If they do cross the road, they might get hurt.

Owen Otter on the lookout.

Life and Family

December 11, 2003

Birthdays

Today twins Orra & Oprah Otter celebrate their 10th birthday. The river otter lives from 8-25 years.

Orra & Oprah

Marriages

Last week Oscar & Olivia Otter got married, and are expecting 2 kits.

Olivia & Oscar Otter

2b December 11, 2003

Homes

Rocky & Rebecca found a den on the Hudson River shoreline, got married last month, and are expecting babies in 10-12 months.

Rocky & Rebecca in their new den.

Stories written by Delaney McDonough

